

Commercial Joomla Templates

Commercial Joomla Templates are our bread and butter! We pride ourselves on taking time and care to produce high quality commercial joomla templates. This means it sometimes takes us a little longer than other template providers to release our commercial templates but we feel it's always worth the wait. Remember, it's Quality over Quantity!

Whats makes our commercial joomla templates better than the rest?

This is always a difficult question to answer! Template design is always a very personal thing. One person may love a certain design while another hates it! We try to vary our commercial templates to be slightly different to what the rest do. We don't add a lot of bells and whistles that the other guys do. Sometimes the bells and whistles and ajax related stuff is great, but other times we feel it adds additional complexity to the process of getting your website live. For this reason, we keep the bells and whistles to a minimum and concentrate on:

- clean, simple good looking designs
- beautiful HTML and CSS
- flexible, elastic content presentation - we try not to force any major content restrictions on our customers when they are setting up their website.

Ok! ok! I'm sold already! What kind of commercial joomla templates have you designed?

I'm glad you asked! We've a nice joomla blog template called jc_blog which we did a while back. Our most popular template so far has been jc_absolution, which is great looking clean joomla template. You'll find the rest of our commercial joomla templates over in the joomla template shop.

So where's the template demo section?

Yes, these days it's kind of expected. We've been so busy building our templates that we've not yet gotten around to setting up our proper template demo area. It's coming soon - should be here within a few weeks once things settle down!
